

Fishing Report - Week ending Sun 11th May 2025

Terry's Top Tips for the week ahead.

Strong winds over the past few days have made a change to some tactics, with sinking lines and lures catching as well as floating lines and dries, especially black pennels, nymphs, sedges and buzzers.

The dries have worked particularly well on the east side of the water in the more sheltered part of the reservoir. Hopefully the slightly more calm and warmer conditions over the coming days will bring us back into that ever popular dry fly fishing so don't put away your floating line yet! .

On Wednesday we hosted the PSUK Regional match.

See below Simon Pecks round up of the day.

Thank to you and your staff for making the other such a success. The best bit is that everyone caught fish which is always the goal when you are an organiser of such events. We found fish all over the reservoir with some areas producing better than others which has resulted in huge differences in some anglers catch returns. The fish are in superb condition and as always in the clear cool water of Carsington fight very hard indeed. Some anglers did significantly better than others as you will see from our results but an overall rod average for the day of over 9 fish per angler has got to be a great result.

We had a small presentation where the top six anglers were awarded fly boxes containing barbless Craig Barr flies which were much appreciated by all the winners. Those six go through to fish the Police National Championships at Clywedog in Wales.

Thank you again and we will be back soon.
